

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
Alabama
California	If you are a California resident, you may have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information including the following rights: 1) The right to know, by way of our Policy and any specific inquiries you direct to us, where Personal Information we have about you comes from, what we use that information for, whether it is being disclosed or sold, and to whom it is being disclosed or sold; 2) The right to have access to any Personal Information we have in our possession or control regarding you; 3) The right to “opt-out” of Precision Vehicle Solutions, Precision Vehicle Logistics, FWL Surface Solutions, AutoVentive, Precision Trucking Solutions, FLEXRail, and Precision Vehicle Group (collectively, “PVH”) sale or sharing of your Personal Information to any third parties and to “opt-out” of any automated decision making or profiling; 4) The right, with some exceptions, to have your Personal Information deleted from PVH’s possession or control; 5) The right to receive equal service and pricing from PVH even if you exercise any of your privacy rights 6) The right to correct inaccurate personal information; 7) The right to receive your Personal Information to allow it to be moved to other companies; and 8) The right to restrict the processing of sensitive Personal Information.	California law permits users of the Site who are California residents to request certain information regarding our disclosure of Personal Information to third parties for their direct marketing purposes. A California resident may also use an authorized agent to submit a right to access request or a request to delete. To make such a request, to learn more, or if you have any questions or concerns about your California privacy rights, please visit the Privacy Notice for California Residents.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
Colorado	If you are a Colorado resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) To opt-out of the processing of your Personal Information for purposes of targeted advertising, the sale of Personal Information; or profiling in furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects concerning you; 2) To confirm whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and to receive access to that Personal Information; 3) To correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information, taking into account the nature of the Personal Information and the purposes of the processing of your Information; 4) To delete your Personal Information; and 5) When exercising your right to access your Personal Information, to obtain the Personal Information in a portable and, to the extent technically feasible, readily usable format that allows you to transmit the data to another entity without hindrance.	PVH will respond to any of the above requests within forty-five days. PVH may extend this deadline once by an additional forty-five days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period along with the reasons for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH shall inform you within the deadlines discussed above, along with the justification for that decision. Should you choose to, you may appeal the decision not to take action (or to take limited action) by submitting an appeal within fourteen days of receipt of PVH's initial response. Within forty-five days of receipt of your appeal, PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken, in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions. PVH may extend this period by sixty days where reasonably necessary, considering the complexity and number of requests serving as the basis for the appeal. If unsatisfied, you may file a complaint with the Colorado Attorney General at https://coag.gov/file-complaint/.
Connecticut	If you are a Connecticut resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights:	PVH will respond to authenticated requests seeking any of the above requests within forty-five days.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
	1) To know what Personal Information we have collected about you, so long as revealing such information would not reveal a trade secret; 2) To obtain, where technically feasible, a copy of all the Personal Information that we have acquired about you; 3) To correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information, taking into account the nature of the Personal Information and the purposes of the processing of your Information; 4) To delete your Personal Information; and 5) To opt out of the processing of your data for the purposes of: a) targeted advertising, b) the sale of Personal Information, or c) profiling in furtherance of solely automated decisions that produce legal or similar significant effects on you.
Delaware	If you are a resident of Delaware, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and to access the same; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information; 3) The right to delete Personal Information provided by or obtained about you; 4) The right to obtain a list of the categories of third parties to which PVH has disclosed your Personal Information; and 5) The right to opt out of the processing of your Personal Information for the purposes of any of the following:	PVH will respond to any of the above requests within forty-five days. PVH may extend this deadline once by an additional forty-five days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period along with the reasons for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH shall inform you within the deadlines discussed above, along with the justification for that decision. Should you choose to, you may appeal the decision not to take action (or to take limited action) by submitting an appeal within fourteen days of receipt of PVH's initial response.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
	a. Targeted advertising; b. The sale of Personal Information (with some exceptions); c. Profiling in furtherance of solely automated decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects concerning you.	Within forty-five days of receipt of your appeal, PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken, in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions. PVH may extend this period by sixty days where reasonably necessary, considering the complexity and number of requests serving as the basis for the appeal.
Florida	If you are a Florida resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing their personal data and the right to access the same; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies in their Personal Information; 3) The right to delete any or all Personal Information provided by you or obtained about you; 4) The right to obtain a copy of your Personal Information in a portable, readily usable format (if feasible); 5) The right to opt out of the processing of your Personal Information for targeted advertising, sale, or profiling in furtherance of a decision that produces a legal or similarly significant effect; and 6) The right to opt out of the collection of Personal Information collected through the operation of a voice recognition or facial recognition feature.	PVH will respond to any of the above requests within forty-five days. PVH may extend this deadline once by an additional fifteen days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period along with the reasons for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH shall inform you within the deadlines discussed above, along with the justification for that decision. Should you choose to, you may appeal the decision not to take action (or to take limited action) by submitting an appeal within fourteen days of receipt of PVH's initial response. Within forty-five days of receipt of your appeal, PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken, in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions. PVH may extend this period by sixty days where reasonably necessary, considering the complexity and number of requests serving as the basis for the appeal.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
Indiana	If you are an Indiana resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and request access to the same; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies in the Personal Information you provided to PVH; 3) The right to obtain a copy, or representative summary, of the Personal Information about you possessed by PVH in a portable and readily usable format; 4) The right to delete the Personal Information that you provided to PVH and/or data otherwise obtained about you by PVH; 5) The right to opt out of the processing of your Personal Information for targeted advertising, profiling, and of the selling of your Personal Information; and 6) The right, as a parent or on behalf of a user known to be a child, to prevent the processing of sensitive data (as that term is defined by statute) about that child unless and until that parent or person on their behalf provides consent.	PVH will respond to authenticated requests seeking any of the above requests within forty-five (45) days, unless extended for cause, by another forty-five (45) days.
Iowa	If you are an Iowa resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights:	PVH will respond to authenticated requests seeking any of the above requests within ninety (90) days, unless extended, for good cause, by another forty-five (45) days.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
	1) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and to access that data; 2) The right to delete the Personal Information that you provide to PVH; 3) The right to obtain a copy of the Personal Information that you provide to PVH in a portable readily usable format; and 4) The right to opt out of the sale of your Personal Information.
Kentucky	If you are a Kentucky resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and to access that information, with certain limitations; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies in the Personal Information held by PVH; 3) The right to delete Personal Information provided by or obtained about you; 4) The right to obtain a copy of your Personal Information provided to PVH; and 5) The right to opt out of the process of your Personal Information for targeted advertising, sale, or profiling in furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects concerning you.	PVH will respond to your request within forty-five (45) days of receipt. The response period may be extended once by forty-five (45) additional days when reasonably necessary, taking into consideration the complexity and number of your requests, so long as PVH informs the consumer of any extension within the initial forty-five (45) day response period, together with the reason for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH will inform you no later than forty-five (45) days after receipt of the request, of the justification for declining to take action and instructions on how to appeal the decision. Information provided in response to your request shall be provided free of charge, up to twice annually per consumer. If requests from a consumer are excessive, repetitive, technically infeasible, or manifestly unfounded, PVH may charge the consumer a reasonable fee to cover the administrative costs of complying with the request or decline to act on the request.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
		If PVH is unable to authenticate the request using commercially reasonable efforts, PVH shall not be required to comply and may request additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate your identity and your request.
Louisiana	If you are a Louisiana resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm PVH is processing your Personal Information and, if so, the right to access that Personal Information; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies with the Personal Information held by PVH, with certain limitations; 3) The right to delete the Personal Information provided by you or obtained about you, unless required to be retained by law; 4) Where Personal Information is processed by digital means, the right to receive a portable copy of your Personal Information; 5) The right to obtain a list of the categories of third parties to which PVH has disclosed the Personal Information (or a list of the categories of third parties with whom PVH has shared all consumer Personal Information where not tracked by consumer); and 6) The right to opt out of the processing of your Personal Information for the purposes of (a) targeted advertising; (b) the sale of that information; or (c) profiling in furtherance of solely automated decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects on you.	PVH will respond to your request not later than 45 days after receipt. PVH may extend this response period by an additional 45 days if: (a) it is reasonably necessary to complete the request based on the complexity and number of your requests; and (b) PVH informs you of the extension and the reasons for it within the initial 45 day response period. If PVH declines to act regarding your request, PVH will: (a) inform you within 45 days after receiving your request of the justification for declining to act; and (b) provide instructions for how you can appeal the decision. PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken in response to your appeal no later than 60 days after receipt of that appeal, including a written description of the reason(s) for the decision. If your appeal is denied, you may submit a complaint to the Louisiana Attorney General at link at the following site Louisiana Office of the Attorney General. PVH will provide information to you in response to you request free of charge twice during any 12-month period. If your requests are manifestly unfounded, excessive, technically infeasible, or repetitive, PVH may either charge you a reasonable fee to cover the administrative costs of complying with the request or decline to act on the request. If PVH is unable to authenticate a request using commercially reasonable efforts, PVH may not be required to comply with the request and will provide you with notice of the same until you provide additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate your identity and your request. PVH may not be required to authenticate an opt-out request.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
Maryland	If you are a Maryland resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm PVH is processing your Personal Information and, if so, the right to access that Personal Information; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies with the Personal Information held by PVH, with certain limitations; 3) The right to delete the Personal Information provided by you or obtained about you, unless required to be retained by law; 4) Where Personal Information is processed by automatic means, the right to receive a portable copy of your Personal Information; 5) The right to obtain a list of the categories of third parties to which PVH has disclosed the Personal Information (or a list of the categories of third parties with whom PVH has shared all consumer Personal Information where not tracked by consumer); and 6) The right to opt out of the processing of your Personal Information for the purposes of (a) targeted advertising; (b) the sale of that information; or (c)	PVH will respond to your request not later than 45 days after receipt. PVH may extend this response period by an additional 45 days if: (a) it is reasonably necessary to complete the request based on the complexity and number of your requests; and (b) PVH informs you of the extension and the reasons for it within the initial 45 day response period. PVH will notify you within 30 days of complying with your request that the request has been complied with. If PVH declines to act regarding your request, PVH will: (a) inform you within 45 days after receiving your request of the justification for declining to act; and (b) provide instructions for how you can appeal the decision. PVH will provide information to you in response to you request free of charge once during any 12-month period. If your requests are manifestly unfounded, excessive, technically infeasible, or repetitive, PVH may either charge you a reasonable fee to cover the administrative profiling in furtherance of solely automated decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects on you.	costs of complying with the request or decline to act on the request. If PVH is unable to authenticate a request using commercially reasonable efforts, PVH may not be required to comply with the request and will provide you with notice of the same until you provide additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate your identity and your request. PVH may not be required to authenticate an opt-out request.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
Minnesota	If you are a Minnesota resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm that PVH is processing your Personal Information and obtain information about the categories of the same that PVH possesses; 2) The right to obtain a copy of your Personal Information that PVH possesses; 3) The right to correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information; 4) The right to request that your Personal Information be deleted, subject to other legal requirements; 5) The right to receive your Personal Information in a portable format for use by another processor; 6) The right to opt out of targeted advertising, the sale of your Personal Information, and the use of your Personal Information for the purposes of profiling to make automated decisions that produce a legal or similarly significant effect; 7) Where Personal Information is used for profiling that leads to an automated decision with legal or similarly significant effect can also request that the result of the	PVH will comply with a request to exercise these right and will inform you of any action taken in response no later than 45 days after receipt. That period may be extended once by 45 additional days where reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests. PVH will inform you of any extension within 45 days of receipt of the request, together with the reasons for the delay. If PVH does not take action on your request, PVH will inform you within 45 days of receipt of the request of the reasons for not taking action and instructions for how to appeal the decision. Within 45 days of receipt of an appeal, PVH will inform you of any action taken or not taken in response to the appeal, along with a written explanation of the reasons in support thereof. That period may be extended by 60 additional days where reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests serving as the basis for the appeal. PVH will inform you of any extension within 45 days of receipt of the appeal, together with the reasons for the delay. When informing a consumer of any action taken or not profiling be explained (e.g., how the decision was made), request to see the Personal Information used in the profiling, and if the decision is based on inaccurate information, request the correction and a re-evaluation of the decision using corrected Personal Information; and 8) The right to request a list of third parties to whom PVH has disclosed or sold their Personal Information.	taken in response to an appeal, PVH will provide a written explanation of the reasons for its decision and clearly and prominently provide you with information about how to file a complaint with the Office of the Attorney General. Information provided in response to a request will be provided free of charge up to twice annually. Where your requests are manifestly unfounded or excessive, in particular because of the repetitive character of the requests, PVH may either charge a reasonable fee to cover the administrative costs of complying with the request, or refuse to act on the request. PVH is not required to comply with a request to exercise any of the rights here where PVH is unable to authenticate the request using commercially reasonable efforts. In such cases, PVH may request the provision of additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate the request. PVH is not required to authenticate an opt-out request, but may deny an opt-out request if it has a good faith, reasonable, and documented belief that the request is fraudulent. If PVH denies an opt-out request because it believes a request is fraudulent, PVH will notify you that the request was denied due to the belief that the request was fraudulent and the basis for that belief.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
Montana	If you are a Montana resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to opt-out of the sale by PVH of Personal Information and the use of Personal Information for targeted marketing and profiling;	PVH will respond to any of the above requests within forty-five days. PVH may extend this deadline once by an additional forty-five days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period along with the reasons for the extension.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
	2) The right to delete the Personal Information that you provided to PVH and/or data otherwise about you; 3) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and request access to the same; 4) The right to correct inaccuracies in the Personal Information you provided to PVH; 5) The right to obtain a copy, or representative summary, of the Personal Information about you possessed by PVH in a portable and readily usable format; 6) The right, as a parent or on behalf of a user known to be a child, to prevent the processing of sensitive data about that child unless and until that parent or person on their behalf provides consent; 7) The right to appeal any decision by PVH not to provide information or take action pursuant to these rights.	If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH shall inform you within the deadlines discussed above, along with the justification for that decision. Should you choose to, you may appeal the decision not to take action (or to take limited action) by submitting an appeal within fourteen days of receipt of PVH's initial response. PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken, in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions.
Nebraska	If you are a Nebraska resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and to access the same; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information; 3) The right to delete your Personal Information provided by you or obtained about you; 4) The right to, where feasible, obtain a copy of your Personal Information in a portable format; and 5) The right to opt out of the processing of your Personal Information for the purposes of targeted advertising, sale of the Personal Information, or profiling in furtherance of a decision that produces a legal or similarly significant effect.	PVH will respond to your request within 45 days of receipt. PVH may extend the response period once by an additional 45 days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests, so long as PVH informs you of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period, together with the reason for the extension. If PVH declines to comply with your request, PVH will inform you within 45 days after receipt of the request of the justification for declining to comply and provide instructions on how to appeal the decision to the Attorney General. PVH will provide information in response to your request free of charge, up to twice annually per consumer. If your request is manifestly unfounded, excessive, or repetitive, PVH may charge you a reasonable fee to cover the administrative costs of complying with the request or may decline to act on the request. If PVH is unable to authenticate the request using commercially reasonable efforts, PVH is not required to comply and may request that you provide additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate your identity and your request.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
New Hampshire	If you are a New Hampshire resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and to access the same; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information; 3) The right to delete the Personal Information provided by or about you; 4) Where subject to automated processing and where technical feasible, the right to obtain a portable copy of the Personal Information processed by PVH; and 5) The right to opt out of the processing of Personal Information for the purposes of targeted advertising, the sale of Personal Information, or profiling in furtherance of solely automated decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects on you.	PVH will respond to your request not later than 45 days after receipt. PVH may extend the response period by 45 additional days when reasonably necessary, considering the complexity and number of the consumer's requests, provided PVH informs you of any such extension within the initial 45-day response period and of the reason for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH will inform you not later than 45 days after receipt of the request, of the justification for declining to take action and instructions for how to appeal the decision. Not later than 60 days after receipt of an appeal, PVH will inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions. If the appeal is denied, PVH will also provide you with an online mechanism or other method through which you may contact the attorney general to submit a complaint. Information provided in response to your request will be provided free of charge, once per consumer during any twelve-month period. If your requests are manifestly unfounded, excessive or repetitive, PVH may charge you a reasonable fee to cover the administrative costs of complying with the request or decline to act on the request. If PVH is unable to authenticate a request to exercise any of your rights using commercially reasonable efforts, PVH will not be required to comply with the request and will provide you with notice that it was unable to authenticate the request until you provide additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate your identity and your request. PVH will not be required to authenticate an opt-out request, but may deny an opt-out request if it has a good faith, reasonable and documented belief that such request is fraudulent. If PVH denies an opt-out request because it believes such request is fraudulent, PVH will notify you that it believes the request is fraudulent, why it believes the request is fraudulent and that it will not comply with the request.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
New Jersey	If you are a New Jersey resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm whether PVH processes your Personal Information and to access the same; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information; 3) The right to delete your Personal Information; 4) The right, where feasible, to obtain a copy of your Personal Information in a portable copy; and 5) The right to opt out of the processing of your Personal Information for the purposes of targeted advertising, the sale of Personal Information, or profiling in	Where PVH receives a verified request from you, it will provide a response to you within 45 days of receipt. PVH may extend the response period by 45 additional days where reasonably necessary, considering the complexity and number of your requests, provided that PVH informs you of any such extension within the initial 45-day response period and the reason for the extension and provide the information for all disclosures of Personal Information that occurred in the prior 12 months. Any request from you will not apply to Personal Information collected prior to the effective date of the New Jersey law unless PVH continues to process such information after that date.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
	furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects on you.	If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH will inform the consumer without undue delay, but not later than 45 days after receipt of the request, of the justification for declining to take action and instructions for how to appeal the decision. Not later than 45 days after receipt of an appeal, PVH will inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions. If the appeal is denied, PVH will also provide you with an online mechanism, if available, or other method through which you may contact the Division of Consumer Affairs in the Department of Law and Public Safety to submit a complaint. Information provided in response to your request will be provided free of charge, once per consumer during any twelve-month period. If your requests are manifestly unfounded, excessive, or repetitive, PVH may charge a reasonable fee to cover the administrative costs of complying with the request or decline to act on the request. If PVH is unable to authenticate a request using commercially reasonable efforts, PVH will not be required to comply and will provide notice to you that it is unable to authenticate until you provide additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate your identity and your request. PVH will not be required to authenticate an opt-out request, but may deny an opt-out request if it has a good faith, reasonable, and documented belief that such request is fraudulent. If PVH denies an opt-out request

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
		because it believes such request is fraudulent, PVH will send a notice to you disclosing that it believes such request is fraudulent, why it believes such request is fraudulent and that it will not comply.
Oklahoma
Oregon	If you are an Oregon resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to know whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and to request a copy of the same; 2) The right to know the categories of Personal Information being processed by PVH; 3) The right to know the categories of third parties to whom PVH has disclosed their Personal Information; 4) The right to correct inaccuracies in their Personal Information; 5) The right to have PVH delete their Personal Information (with some exceptions); 6) The right to opt out of the processing of their Personal Information for targeted advertising, sale, or profiling of you in a way that produces legal effects; and 7) The right to obtain copies of their Personal Information from PVH in a portable and useable format.	PVH will respond to any of the above requests within forty-five days. PVH may extend this deadline once by an additional forty-five days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period along with the reasons for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH shall inform you within the deadlines discussed above, along with the justification for that decision. Should you choose to, you may appeal the decision not to take action (or to take limited action) by submitting an appeal within fourteen days of receipt of PVH's initial response. Within forty-five days of receipt of your appeal, PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken, in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions. PVH may extend this period by sixty days where reasonably necessary, considering the complexity and number of requests serving as the basis for the appeal.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
Rhode Island	If you are a Rhode Island resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing your Personal Information and access to the same; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information; 3) Where Personal Information is subject to automated processing, the right, where feasible, to obtain a portable copy of your Personal Information; and 4) The right to opt out of the processing of your Personal Information for the purposes of targeted advertising, the sale of Personal Information, or profiling in furtherance of solely automated decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects on you.	PVH will respond to your request not later than 45 days after receipt. PVH may extend the response period by 45 additional days when reasonably necessary, considering the complexity and number of your requests; provided PVH informs you of any such extension within the 45 day response period and of the reason for the extension. If PVH declines to act regarding your request, PVH will inform you not later than 45 days after receipt of the request, of the justification for declining to act and instructions for how to appeal the decision. Not later than 60 days after receipt of an appeal, PVH will inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decision. If the appeal is denied, you may submit a complaint to the attorney general. Information provided in response to your request will be provided free of charge, once per customer during any twelve (12) month period. If your requests are manifestly unfounded, excessive or repetitive, PVH may charge a reasonable fee to cover the administrative costs of complying with the request or decline to act on the request. If PVH is unable to authenticate a request to exercise any of the rights afforded, it will not be required to comply with the request and will provide notice to you that it is unable to authenticate the request until you provide additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate your identity and your request. PVH will not be required to authenticate an opt-out request, but may deny it if it has reasonable and documented belief that such request is fraudulent. If PVH denies an opt-out request because it believes such request is fraudulent, PVH will send a notice to you disclosing that it believes such request is fraudulent, why it believes the request is fraudulent and that it will not comply with such request.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
Tennessee	If you are a Tennessee resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) The right to confirm whether PVH is processing their personal data and request access to the same; 2) The right to delete the personal data that you provided to PVH and/or that PVH has obtained about you; 3) The right to obtain a copy, or representative summary, where feasible, of the personal data about you possessed by PVH in a portable and readily usable format; 4) The right to correct inaccuracies in the personal data you provided to PVH; 5) The right to opt-out of the sale by PVH of personal information and the use of personal information for targeted marketing and profiling; and 6) The right to appeal any decision by PVH not to provide information or take action pursuant to these rights.	PVH will respond to any of the above requests within forty-five days. PVH may extend this deadline once by an additional forty-five days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period along with the reasons for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH shall inform you within the deadlines discussed above, along with the justification for that decision. Should you choose to, you may appeal the decision not to take action (or to take limited action) by submitting an appeal within fourteen days of receipt of PVH's initial response. PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken, in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions.
Texas	If you are a Texas resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights:	PVH will respond to any of the above requests within forty-five days. PVH may extend this deadline once by an additional forty-five days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of the extension within

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
	1) The right to have confirmed that an entity is processing the resident's Personal Information and to access that personal data; 2) The right to correct inaccuracies in the resident's personal data, taking into account the nature of the Personal Information and the purposes of the processing of the resident's Personal Information; 3) The right to delete Personal Information provided by or obtained about the resident; 4) The right, if available in a digital format, to obtain a copy of the resident's Personal Information that the resident previously provided to the controller in a portable and, to the extent technically feasible, readily usable format that allows the consumer to transmit the data to another entity without hindrance; and 5) The right to opt out of the process of their Personal Information for the purposes of: a. Targeted advertising; b. The sale of Personal Information; or c. Profiling in furtherance of a decision that produces a legal or similarly significant effect concerning the resident.	the initial forty-five-day response period along with the reasons for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH shall inform you within the deadlines discussed above, along with the justification for that decision. Should you choose to, you may appeal the decision not to take action (or to take limited action) by submitting an appeal within fourteen days of receipt of PVH's initial response. PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken, in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions within sixty (60) days of receipt of your appeal. If unsatisfied, you may file a complaint with the Texas Attorney General at File a Consumer Complaint Office of the Attorney General (texasattorneygeneral.gov).
Utah	If you are a Utah resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) To confirm if we are processing your Personal Information and to access that data; 2) To delete Personal Information that you provided to us;	PVH will respond to authenticated requests seeking any of the above requests within forty-five days.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
	3) If technically feasible, to obtain a copy of data that you provided to us in a portable manner; and 4) To opt out of the processing of Personal Information for targeted advertising or sale.
Vermont	If you are a Vermont resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) To confirm if we are processing your Personal Information and to access that data; 2) To delete Personal Information that you provided to us; 3) If technically feasible, to obtain a copy of data that you provided to us in a portable manner; and 4) To opt out of the processing of Personal Information for targeted advertising or sale. 5) Obtain a list of the third parties to which PVH has sold your Personal Information or a list of all third parties to which PVH has sold Personal Information. If your Personal Information was processed for the purposes of profiling in furtherance of any automated decision that produced any legal or similarly significant effect concerning you, and if feasible: a) Question the results of such profiling; b) Be informed for the reason that such profiling resulted in such decision; Review your Personal Information that was processed for the purposes of such profiling;	PVH will respond to any of the above requests within forty-five days. PVH may extend this deadline once by an additional forty-five days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period along with the reasons for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH shall inform you within the deadlines discussed above, along with the justification for that decision. Should you choose to, you may appeal the decision not to take action (or to take limited action) by submitting an appeal. PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken in response to your appeal no later than 60 days after receipt of that appeal, including a written description of the reason(s) for the decision. If you appeal is denied, you may submit a complaint to the Louisiana Attorney General at the link at the following site https://ago.vermont.gov/cap. If PVH is unable to authenticate a request to exercise any of the rights afforded, it will not be required to comply with the request and will provide notice to you that it is unable to authenticate the request until you provide additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate your identity and your request. PVH will not be required to authenticate an opt-out request, but may deny it if it has reasonable and documented belief that such request is fraudulent. If PVH denies an opt-out request because it believes such request is fraudulent, PVH will send a notice to you disclosing that it believes such request is fraudulent, why it believes the request is fraudulent and that it will not comply with such request.

State Name	Consumer Rights	How to Exercise Rights
Virginia	If you are a Virginia resident, you may, upon request, have certain rights with respect to your Personal Information, including the following rights: 1) To confirm whether or not PVH is processing your Personal Information and to access such Personal Information; 2) To correct inaccuracies in your Personal Information, taking into account the nature of the Personal Information and the purposes of the processing of the Personal Information; 3) To delete your Personal Information; 4) To obtain a copy of your Personal Information that you previously provided to PVH in a portable and, to the extent technically feasible, readily usable format that allows you to transmit the Information to another controller without hindrance, where the processing is carried out by automated means; and 5) To opt-out of the Personal Information processing for purposes of targeted advertising, the sale of personal Information, or profiling in furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects concerning you.	PVH will respond to any of the above requests within forty-five days. PVH may extend this deadline once by an additional forty-five days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of your requests, so long as we inform you of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period along with the reasons for the extension. If PVH declines to take action regarding your request, PVH shall inform you within the deadlines discussed above, along with the justification for that decision. Should you choose to, you may appeal the decision not to take action (or to take limited action) by submitting an appeal within fourteen days of receipt of PVH's initial response. Within sixty days of receipt of your appeal, PVH shall inform you in writing of any action taken or not taken, in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions. If unsatisfied, you may file a complaint with the Virginia Attorney General at https://www.oag.state.va.us/consumer-protection/index.php/file-a-complaint.

